

FOUR BOYS WOUNDED—Through this hole went one blast of a shot gun and four of six boys were wounded late Tuesday night. The hole was made as Woodrow W. Rader, 40, of Route 4, Sedalia shot at the car as the boys were trying to flee his driveway. The boys wounded were: Ronnie Hughes, 17, Ralph Naylor, 18, Richard Gordon Craig, 17, and Richard Henry Dorweiler, 18, driver of the car. Ronald Keith Vansell and a 14-year-old juvenile escaped the pellets from the shotgun. The car, an Oldsmobile, is owned by Dorweiler. UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge said today the United States wants to work with the Soviet Union for peace. But he declared "mere coexistence while one side tries to bury the other is not the answer."

Tire Blowout Causes Fire And Damages

A blowout of a rear tire on a 1953 Cadillac sedan caused a fire which destroyed several hundred dollars worth of clothing and did extensive damage to the automobile, on Highway 65, about five miles north of Sedalia shortly after noon Thursday.

The Cadillac, owned and driven by M. C. Miller, accompanied by Mrs. Miller, was pulling a large house trailer. As the units came around a curve near the Cedar Creek Hill, the left rear tire blew.

out. The car traveled about 200 feet before stopping and the rear tire was a mass of flames in seconds.

A passing trucker stopped and tried using fire extinguishers but was unable to gain any headway on the flames. A few seconds later Emmet Renfrow, passing in a truck, stopped, and with a large extinguisher was able to check the flames for a few minutes before the arrival of the Pettis County Fire Department.

The flames had flared up again as the fire truck arrived and quick action on the part of the two firemen using two lines of hose put out the fire. The quick action on the part of the fire department saved complete destruction of the car and the trailer was undamaged other than a slight scorched paint on the front of it.

The Millers were enroute to Springfield, Mo., and Oklahoma City. Their home is in Oklahoma City.

Five Boys Questioned In Tuesday Shooting

Five of the boys involved in the shooting on North Highway 65 Tuesday night appeared at the office of Prosecuting Attorney Harold Barrick Friday morning with their parents to make statements concerning their activities.

A sixth boy, who was hospitalized after the shooting, was unable to appear. Barrick said, after a session with the boys and their parents, that he would not decide what action should be taken until early next week.

The shooting occurred at the farm of Woodrow W. Rader, Route 4, when he surprised six boys at his farm gasoline tank. He claimed it was the fourth time in about a week that someone had visited the tank. State Trooper Robert Stockdell of the Highway Patrol, who investigated the shooting, attended this morning's investigation. A single blast from a 12-gauge shotgun hit the boys.

Sukarno Is Ready For Exit

Indonesia President Denies His Ouster But Refuses Answer To Any Questions

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — President Sukarno prepared today to leave the country, for what is officially described as a rest, in the midst of a national crisis over the campaign against the Dutch. He denied he has been deposed.

The 56-year-old Sukarno, looking tired and tense, personally appeared before newsmen and denied reports from the Netherlands that he was a prisoner of the army and had been ousted from power. He laughed and smiled but refused to answer any questions.

Earlier, in a signed, handwritten note issued through government officials, he had made the same denials. The note said he was carrying on his duties as usual and that Amsterdam is full of wishful thinking.

Commenting on the Amsterdam reports, one of his aides said it was the biggest laugh Sukarno has had in years.

Premier Djuanda asked Parliament earlier today to swear in Speaker Sartono, a moderate Nationalist, as acting president in Sukarno's absence. Sartono, also 56, was willing to serve during the period of President Sukarno's recuperation, an official announcement said.

Sukarno, it was said, was going to a friendly neighbor country. Although his need of rest was given as the official reason for his departure, some informants indicated security also was a reason. Four grenades were thrown at him on Nov. 30 in an effort to kill him.

The Peiping radio in Red China quoted an Indonesian newspaper as saying a second attempt on Sukarno's life was made two days ago, just before he spoke at a rally in Surabaya in which he sounded a no-retreat in his anti-Dutch campaign.

A government spokesman indicated, however, that Sartono would only be figurehead. He said Premier Djuanda and Maj. Gen. Abdul Harris Nasution, the army chief of staff, "will be in charge during Sukarno's visit abroad."

Workmen were hampered by the water, which froze as it poured out of the firemen's hoses. (Democrat-Capitol photo)

Blair Adds $1 Million To '59 Fund

From Surplus In Blind Fund Due to Aid

JEFFERSON CITY — Gov. James T. Blair picked up a million dollar windfall today for the state general revenue fund for use during the fiscal year starting next July 1.

It came from a surplus in the blind pension fund. State Treasurer M. E. Morris transferred the million to the state distributive school fund for use next year. "The schools won't lose a thing," the governor said.

"We are searching every nook and corner of the state government for funds to support existing state services, with the hope of averting a further tax on our citizens."

"This million dollars comes as welcome news since we can turn it into the distributive school fund as required by the constitution and thereby save a million dollars out of the general revenue that would have otherwise had to be appropriated to the school fund."

Proctor N. Carter, state welfare director, told the governor the money could be transferred safely without impairing the present blind pension program.

Carter estimated the balance in the blind pension fund at the end of this year will be $1,900,000. The remaining $900,000 will be kept on hand to continue the program during the period when tax collections are slow.

Legislative Program For Next Year Goes To Congress Jan. 9

WASHINGTON — An outline of President Eisenhower's 1958 legislative program will be presented to Congress Jan. 9, two days after it reconvenes.

The White House said there was no word yet on whether Eisenhower will deliver his annual State of the Union message in person. He has done so every year but one since he became president in 1953. The exception was in 1956 when he was recuperating from a heart attack.

Kansas Citian Dies In Wreck On Hiway 40

William Greenberg, 56, of Kansas City, Mo., was killed in a car wreck about 9 o'clock Thursday night on U. S. Highway 40, six miles east of Sweet Springs. The wreck was discovered by Trooper Lloyd Roberts, Concordia, of the State Highway Patrol.

Frank Farmer, of the Sweet Springs Herald, reported Trooper Roberts was on his routine patrol on Highway 40 and came upon the accident. The car, which apparently was headed east had swerved to the left, went into a bridge abutment on the north side of the highway.

Greenberg was instantly killed according to the report, and his car, a 1957 Buick, was demolished.

Trooper Roberts indicated it appeared as if the man might have fallen asleep at the wheel of his car from the marks on the highway and other conditions of the wreck.

The body was removed to the Moseley Funeral Home in Sweet Springs.

KANSAS CITY — Missouri is having fine weather for Christmas shoppers.

round-the-clock pounding at the North Atlantic Treaty Alliance meeting in Paris as a threat to world peace, the armed forces and the Soviet home audience were being taken by all members of the Communist camp.

Hour after hour, Moscow radio drummed out the terms of the anti-NATO notes the Kremlin sent all United Nations members yesterday, while denouncing the Atlantic Alliance as incompatible with U.N. principles.

The propaganda drive was at an intensity rivaled in recent times only by the nervous days of the crisis over the Middle East fighting a year ago. Foreign observers here said the drive is aimed at stimulating a will for neutralism in the Western camp.

The newspaper Soviet Aviation said the Red military is on the alert throughout Eastern Europe because of "a growing threat that American aggressive circles will unleash a new war."

"The Communist camp will continue to struggle for peace and the easing of international tensions," this Ministry of Defense publication added, "but at the same time it will heighten its vigilance against the aggressive plans of the imperialists."

Ike in Good Shape For Summit Meeting

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower was reported in excellent spirits today as he prepared to fly to Paris for the NATO summit conference.

He was due to take off at 5 p.m. and those who saw him ahead of time said he was of unusually good cheer despite the formidable task ahead of him—shoring up the North Atlantic Alliance in the face of new Russian threats and missiles-space advances.

Perhaps significantly, the President's personal party includes Lewis L. Strauss, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, and Dr. James R. Killian Jr., recently appointed special assistant to the President for science and technology.

Asks Inquiry Into Subways

State Legislator Requests Removal of Commissioners

NEW YORK (AP)—A state legislator today called for a probe of the city's Transit Authority in connection with the subway motormen's strike which has bedeviled millions of travelers since 5 a.m. Monday.

The lawmaker, Assemblyman William A. Kummer, Manhattan Democrat, also called for removal of two of the TA's three commissioners for what he termed very arrogant statements made by them during the strike.

As all sides awaited the views of Mayor Robert F. Wagner on a strike-ending formula put forward by the disgruntled motormen's union, the TA reported rush-hour subway service this morning at 70 per cent of normal. It was the best since the strike began.

Partial service has been maintained largely through the use of motormen who are not members of the striking union and supervisory personnel. In addition, the TA said, each day has brought back a growing number of the men who had left their jobs.

Kummer said he will ask the acting state investigations commissioner, Arthur L. Reuter, to handle the Transit Authority inquiry. If Reuter declines, Kummer said, the Legislature will be asked to do the job.

The Transit Authority reported dependent agency set up by city and state legislation.

Kummer said he was asking for the removal of commissioners Charles Patterson and Joseph O'Grady because of statements made by them since the walkout began. Kummer did not specify the statements.

He said he wanted the TA investigated on the basis of what he termed collusive practices. He did not elaborate.

With the initial success of their strike crumbling, members of the Motormen's Benevolent Assn. last night voted to submit to the mayor a six-point proposal designed to bring about a conference and strike settlement.

Before any word was forthcoming from Wagner, however, top AFL-CIO leaders here phoned City Hall to urge that Wagner reject any conference with the motormen's union.

The MBA called its strike in an effort to win its own bargaining representation with the Transit Authority. Bargaining rights for all the system's employees, including the MBA, now are held by an AFL-CIO union.

Boonville Digs Down To Pay Hospital Bill

BOONVILLE — Boonville citizens have raised $1,185 to aid a needy family here pay the hospital bill for a critically ill baby.

A congenital heart defect which is incurable and will eventually prove fatal was the diagnosis of doctors for 16-month-old Kurt Douglas Terrell. The baby must be hospitalized and his father, James H. Terrell, a truck driver, could not meet the hospital bill of $30 a day.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce heard of the family's plight and appealed for funds.

Dulles Joins West Groups In Paris

Task Ahead To Pave Way For Ike Visit

PARIS — U.S. Secretary of State Dulles arrived in Paris today to join other foreign ministers of the Western alliance in final preparations for the NATO summit conference.

A major task awaited the American secretary — the soothing of French feelings hurt by what Paris regards as a British-American effort to dictate the use of nuclear weapons by the alliance.

French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau was not at the airport to meet Dulles, presumably because if he met all 14 visiting NATO foreign ministers, he'd have time for nothing else. Jacques Vimeot, head of the American section of the French Foreign Ministry, greeted Dulles for his government.

The secretary declined to make any statement before he was driven to the American Embassy. He said he would leave the talking "to the President tomorrow—he's the head of the delegation."

The French are angry because the United States and Britain have agreed on plans for the stationing and use of nuclear weapons in Europe without consulting France.

French resentment finds fertile ground in the fears of smaller Western European nations that acceptance of American missiles may cancel any chance—however slender—of a settlement with Russia.

The French, and to some extent other Continental members of NATO, also resent implications that they are being dictated to by the United States and Britain, the only members of the alliance now producing nuclear weapons.

Some diplomats feared that unless the French were pacified quickly, their anger would thwart the reweaving of the United NATO front which is the aim of the summit meeting of government chiefs.

If private conversations of the foreign ministers fail to clear up the trouble, President Eisenhower may be called upon to use his unrivaled influence with European statesmen for a solution.

Eisenhower is scheduled to arrive tomorrow.

Mobsters Get Stiff Warning

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Legislative probes threatened to slap contempt proceedings on bawdy mobsters if they refused today to tell what happened last month at a gathering of gangland's elite and their friends.

Big John Ormento, one of the 60 men at the national gangland meeting at tiny Apalachin, took the Fifth Amendment 18 times yesterday as the first to testify among two dozen delegates subpoenaed. Ormento, of Lido Beach, Long Island, was under warning not to repeat the performance as he prepared to return to the witness chair today.

Other delegates slated to follow Big John in the watchdog committee's public hearing were Joe Profaci, the "Olive Oil King" from Brooklyn; Joseph Falcone, Utica liquor dealer; and 21-year-old Joseph Barbara Jr.

It was young Barbara's father who played host to the hoodlums when surprised state police flushed them from his spacious stone mansion west of Binghamton Nov. 14. The raid touched off more than a dozen investigations in assorted states into the reasons for the meeting.

No one has talked yet and Ormento's recourse to the Fifth Amendment indicated few, if any, will now.

Ormento's performance also angered Committee Chairman William Horan.

"If the boys refuse to talk," the Republican assemblyman declared, "we might wait some of them right over to a judge." Barbara, 51, who has suffered four heart attacks this year, the latest the day after the raid, was one of two delegates who asked to be excused from testifying because of illness. The other was John C. Montana, onetime Republican city councilman in Buffalo.

State police officers supplied a wealth of information to the committee on the background of Barbara's guests but nothing on the dinner conversation.

Ormento, a twice-convicted dope peddler, gave no more than his name and address. He invoked the Fifth Amendment on each of the nine questions dealing with his criminal record.

Tech Poll Wants Girls to Be Sweet On First Date

ATLANTA (AP)—Georgia Tech men report their ideal date doesn't drink or smoke, is serious, sweet, conservatively dressed, broadminded and kissable on the first date.

She's also a little over 5 feet 2, has eyes of blue and brown hair. The attributes and statistics were revealed in a poll conducted by Technie, student newspaper.

The editors said 441 of the school's 5,400 students answered the questions.

Only 4 per cent of the Tech men voting were in favor of a "little old naive girl."

There were occasional bursts of spirit reminiscent of the good old college days, however. Six per cent voted for "any girl up to 20 feet or six beer cans in height." Seven per cent said they didn't care whether she weighed 150, 350 pounds or the equivalent of three cases of beer.

What's Wrong With U-I's Film Studio

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—What's wrong with Universal-International? Hollywood is again witnessing an agonizing sight—the breakup of a great movie studio. Last year, it was RKO, which is now virtually obliterated with the sale to Desi Arnaz.

Now U-I is undergoing a dire change. Whole departments are being cleared out of veteran employees, some of them with the studio over 30 years.

The studio has refrained from any official announcements about the exodus, but an executive commented: "We now have 32 unreleased pictures, enough to last for more than a year. The studio is taking time out for a reappraisal of what kind of pictures we should make, how many and so forth."

Indications are that the studio will be shut down completely for at least six months. Some observers are asking if it will ever open again. And if so, will it ever be a fully staffed studio again?

The U-I catastrophe was a puzzle. The rest of the industry figured the studio was a smart operation; it made solid, commercial movies at sensible cost and sold them efficiently.

There had been no evidence of panic within the organization. Indeed, a dividend was recently approved. The news came on the same day many studio workers got their pink slips, a cause of some bitterness.

Then what was the reason?

It may have been tied in with theater business this fall, which has been disappointing. Reports also indicate Eastern banking houses have refused loans until U-I disposes of some of its present properties. With more than 30 films for release, including the last of the RKO features, U-I can afford to cease production for awhile.

But it is still brutal on the long-time employees. And it will be a shame if Universal should lapse into history. It has been a lively element in the film industry for 48 years.

To the amateur observer, it would appear that U-I made three errors in operation:

1. Continuing to turn out commercial product at a time when run-of-the-mill entertainment isn't selling. Class attractions are the thing today, but U-I failed to put enough money into writing and directing to buy more than mediocre films.

2. Failure to use star power. U-I smartly invested in a talent program that produced some top stars: Rock Hudson, Tony Curtis, Audie Murphy, etc. But these stars were largely wasted in program pictures.

3. Failure to get into TV production. U-I started to engage in TV filming, then backed off, making commercials only. A TV operation could have cushioned the blow of poor theater business.

US Will Not Confirm Japanese Board Guess

TOKYO (AP)—The director of Japan's procurement board said today 82,000 U. S. troops are still stationed in Japan.

The U. S. military declined to confirm the figures.

Kentaro Uemura told the Diet's lower house Cabinet Committee there are 22,000 U. S. ground soldiers in Japan, 20,000 Navy personnel and 40,000 Air Force.

He said about 20,000 men have been withdrawn from Japan since plans for a gradual pullout were announced by President Eisenhower and Premier Nobusuke Kishi last June.

Jury Convicts Johnny Dio Of Extortion

NEW YORK (AP)—A General Sessions Court jury found racketeer John (Johnny) Dio Dioguardi guilty of extortion and conspiracy early today after deliberating 2 hours and 45 minutes.

Judge John A. Mullen set Jan. 8 for sentencing. The suave, 43-year-old Dio, considered a kingpin in the New York underworld, faces a maximum sentence of 31 years.

Johnny McNamara, president of Teamsters Local 295, also was found guilty of the same charge. He and Dio were accused of conspiring to commit extortion by shaking down two stationery firms for $4,700 in 1956.

Dio had escaped conviction last spring in the acid-blinding of labor columnist Victor Riesel. But he was sentenced to two years imprisonment in September for extorting money from an employer in return for labor peace.

The government had charged in the Dio-McNamara trial, which started Oct. 9, that the Tower-Crossman Corp. and the Atlas Stationery Corp. were forced to pay the defendants to avert unlawful picket lines and other obstructions to their business.

The long trial had gone to a jury of 10 men and two women last night after a day of summation by Asst. Dist. Atty. Alvin Goldstein. Neither McNamara nor Dio ever took the stand.

The government had charged Tower-Crossman and Atlas had signed an agreement with the Equitable Research Associates Corp., which Dio heads, in January 1956, and shortly thereafter turned over to McNamara two checks totaling $3,500 made out to Dio's organization.

In June 1956, McNamara signed a contract between his local and the stationery firms stipulating that monthly payments be made to Equitable.

In his summation, Goldstein told the jury he had "never heard of a labor leader organizing a shop without talking to the employees, without signing them up or even meeting with them."

Heart Attack Fatal To New York Woman

NEW YORK (AP)—A 60-year-old woman died of a heart attack last night, 10 minutes after she thought her husband had been fatally stricken.

Mrs. Morris Carlton Troper died at a dinner at the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel just after her husband collapsed from a stomach disorder.

"If he goes, we want to go together," she said. A few minutes later, she died.

Troper, 65, a retired U. S. Army brigadier general, was not immediately informed of his wife's death.

Tollefson Says US Should Lay Claims To South Pole Areas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Tollefson (R-Wash.) said today the United States should lay claim to portions of the South Pole region "before the whole antarctic pie is gobbled up by other nations."

He said that although 75 per cent of the area's 5 1/2 million square miles has been seen only by U. S. explorers, "all but 25 per cent has been claimed by other nations—we have claimed nothing."

For the past six years Tollefson sponsored legislation to claim U. S. sovereignty over certain areas of Antarctica.

He said he plans to press for action on the measure at the coming session.

Indicative of Antarctica's military value, Tollefson said, were struggles in World Wars I and II for control of the waters between the polar continent and the southern tip of South America. Destruction of the Panama Canal, he said, would require that all shipping between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans pass through these waters en route around Cape Horn.

Actor Begins Sentence For Kicking Photog

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Anthony Franciosa, husband of actress Shelley Winters, began serving a 10-day sentence today at the sheriff's honor farm for kicking a newspaper photographer last April 19.

He was convicted of assaulting a photographer who attempted to take a picture of the actor and Miss Winters leaving an auction. Franciosa said he objected to being photographed with Miss Winters because they were not married at that time.

Ustinov Adds New Portrait To Gallery

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—For 18 years Peter Ustinov has been known as a wonder boy of show business. Now 36, and scarcely a boy, a bearded Ustinov of ample girth will add a new portrait to the gallery of characters he has played.

He will portray that garrulous, irascible 18th century lexicographer, Dr. Samuel Johnson, on Omnibus (NBC-TV) Sunday. The 90-minute dramatization of James Boswell's "Life of Samuel Johnson" marks the debut of both Ustinov and Johnson on American television.

Though scarcely yet a household word in Red Gulch, Mont., Ustinov—an English-born actor and playwright—has inspired great respect in the stage world of London, Broadway and Europe. He is currently starring on Broadway in his own comedy, "Romanoff and Juliet."

Why should Ustinov, busily engaged in seven weekly appearances in his own Broadway play, want to take on the difficult role of Dr. Johnson?

For one thing, he's fascinated by the 18th century, he said the other day.

"Most people think of it as a clean, orderly age. It wasn't. It was dirty and disorderly and revolutionary. People didn't brush their teeth. If they could afford it, they doused a little perfume in their mouths. Men took snuff and spilled it over themselves. They applied powder rather than soap."

"The theater and films have a tendency to clean up 18th century life. When I found that Omnibus planned an honest, accurate portrait of the times, I was interested in playing Dr. Johnson."

Johnson was clean-shaven. Ustinov has worn a beard for years, as do many young Europeans talented in the arts who apparently wish to emphasize their maturity. He declined to shave his beard, even for Dr. Johnson. ("My two children wouldn't recognize me without it. It might frighten them and give them some kind of emotional trauma.") So, on Omnibus Sunday, he will wear a special plastic mask that takes hours to apply and remove.

Kenneth High, star of the Broadway play "Look Back in Anger," plays Boswell, the Scot who worshipped Dr. Johnson.

To Start Study Of Dave Beck's Trial

SEATTLE (AP)—A King County Superior Court jury of seven men and five women today was expected to start its deliberations in the grand larceny trial of Teamsters Union President Dave Beck. The defense and prosecution

The jurors will be charged with determining whether Beck misappropriated $1,900 from the sale of a union-owned automobile to a beer truck driver in January 1956.

Miss Schuerman Recently Weds C. Robertson

Before an altar set with white mums, greenery and lighted tapers, Miss Marilyn Joyce Schuerman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ted Schuerman, DeSoto, formerly of Sedalia, and Clifford Robertson, son of Mrs. Melvin Robertson, DeSoto, and the late Mr. Robertson, were united in marriage at the Congregational - Evangelical Church in DeSoto Sunday afternoon, December 1. The Rev. Robert McNamara performed the double ring ceremony.

Preceding the bride down the aisle were Miss Dona Stockbarger, maid of honor, and Miss Linda Templeton, bridesmaid. They wore gowns of identical design fashioned of taffeta. The maid of honor's gown was rose and the bridesmaid's blue. They were matching net stoles over the sleeveless fitted bodices and the bouffant skirts were circled with soft bows. They wore matching velvet hats and carried bronze mums.

The bride wore a gown of white nylon over taffeta fashioned with cap sleeves, the fitted bodice was accented with seed pearls and metallic iridescent embroidery on delicate lace, flaring into a very full skirt. Her fingertip veil of illusion was held in place by a coronet ornamented with seed pearls. The bride carried a bouquet of white roses and spider mums. Her pearl necklace was a gift from the bridegroom.

Kenneth Guest served as best man and Nate Dennis was groomsmen. Dale McFarland ushered. Mrs. Gladys Brown, organist, accompanied Dave Grommett as he sang.

The bride's mother chose a knit suit of light green with brown accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a gown of purple crepe. Their corsages were of white carnations.

A reception for members of the families and wedding party was held following the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents. Miss Nancy Garrett, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Don Schuerman, sister-in-law of the bride, served.

The bride attended school in Sedalia and graduated this year from DeSoto High School. She was employed at Fo-Jo Studio prior to her marriage.

The bridegroom also graduated from DeSoto High School with the class of 1957 and is employed in St. Louis.

They are residing in Granite City, Ill.

Windstorm Smashes

School in Sicily, Trapping 30 Children

PALERMO, Sicily (AP) — A terrific windstorm smashed a two-story schoolhouse today in nearby Altofonte, trapping 30 children of kindergarten age.

Soldiers, firemen and volunteers dug out 11 dead, including Sister Giuseppina Giordano, 42, headmistress of the convent school. Eleven children were injured, four seriously. The children ranged from 3 to 6 years of age.

Five other teaching sisters and the remainder of the children escaped unhurt.

The storm struck with 75-mile winds at 9:30 a. m., the tile and wood roof broke through to the first story of the building and crashed on children at play. Residents for blocks around heard the crash. Some thought it was an earthquake. Others reported it was a landslide.

Faithful Horse Pulls

Hurt Farmer to House

PRINCETON, Mo. (AP) — Elmer Maxwell, a farmer, said last night that he probably owes his life to his faithful horse Dolly.

Maxwell related that he broke his leg while cutting wood on his farm yesterday and dragging logs behind his team of horses. One rolled over his right leg. The temperature was 20 degrees and Maxwell couldn't expect his family to come looking for him until dark.

He held the reins and urged the team, Dolly and Daisy, to drag him a quarter mile toward home. When they reached a gate the farmer said he was able to crawl up on Dolly and rode the remaining half mile home.

Maxwell said of Dolly, his lead horse and a family pet, "I'm alive because Dolly knew what to do."

Lions Decide To Present Minstrel Show

The Sedalia Lions Club meeting was spent discussing the coming visit of First Vice-President Dudley L. Sims, Charleston, W. Va., of Lions International next Feb., and the proposed Lions Minstrel to be held this coming year, replacing the previous production, the Lions Fashion Show.

The visit of Vice-President Dudley is the first by a top Lions International officer since the local club was chartered 20 years ago. It is anticipated the attendance that night will be between 500 and 600 people from throughout Central Missouri.

Due to many inquiries by Sedalians as to when the Lions will again put on their home talent production, the Lions Fashion Show, the members discussed it pro and con, resulting in a decision to revert back to the good old blackface minstrel. Not like the late fashion show, when members were almost forced to be in the production, which required them to dress like women, more than 15 members volunteered readily for the new program.

Dates for the minstrel will be set after the first of the year. The boys and girls committee reported more than 25 pairs of shoes are to be distributed to children in the schools of Sedalia. Names of the children have been approved by the various principals in the schools. Presentations are being made this coming week as Christmas presents from the Lions.

President A. B. Warren announced the fruit cake sales have been successful and the latest reports figure the money will enable the Lions to increase their monthly contribution to the Crippled Children's Center. The actual amount will not be announced until after the sales program has been completed.

TIRE BLOWS OUT, FIRE STARTS—M. C. Miller of Oklahoma City, Okla., stands helplessly as flames start consuming his left rear tire on his 1953 Cadillac sedan which caught fire after a blowout. He was pulling a large house trailer and as he started down the Cedar Creek Hill on North Highway 65 and into a curve, the tire blew, and after going on about 200 feet burst into flames from the friction. Truckers tried to stop the fire with small extinguishers, to no avail, but the Pettis County Fire Department arrived in time to extinguish the flames and keep them from spreading to the trailer and destroying the entire automobile. Donald R. Wells, Wilson Trailer Court, forfeited a $2 cash bond on a charge of blocking an alley behind the Smith Motor Co.

William D. Ray, 609 West Second, charged with blocking an alley behind the Smith Motor Co., forfeited a $2 cash bond.

Maurine H. Vickery, 51, of 109 East Seventh, charged with driving a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating beverage, 12th and Crescent Drive, forfeited her $75 cash bond.

Donald W. Maire, Robertson, Mo., charged with blocking an alley behind the Smith Motor Co., forfeited a $2 cash bond.

Three overtime parkers who failed to appear in police court forfeited their cash bonds of $1 each and seven others paid the 25-cent fee.

Harry H. Hatfield, 806 East Fifth, charged with careless and reckless driving in connection with an accident at Seventh and Monroe Thursday evening, pleaded guilty and was fined $25 by Judge Willard Morris.

Involved in the accident was a 1952 Buick sedan which was parked on Seventh and a Packard sedan driven by Hatfield who was headed east on Seventh. The front end and left side of the Buick were damaged and the left side of the Packard was damaged.

Union Aims At High Wage Less Rackets

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — A smaller but determined AFL-CIO, its guns aimed at liberal wage increases during 1958, turned to redoubling its efforts today to rid itself of crime, racketeering and corruption.

It had shown during its week-long convention a firmness to deal decisively with corruption even if it meant expulsion of its largest affiliate — the 1,400,000-member Teamsters Union.

Ouster from the federation of the Teamsters and two other smaller unions charged with corruption apparently had restored some of the prestige organized labor lost by disclosures of the Senate Rackets Committee.

In a final act of its second constitutional convention which ended yesterday, the federation pledged to redouble its efforts to eliminate "all forces of crime, racketeering and corruption within the trade union movement."

It felt, however, that too much emphasis had been placed on labor corruption by the Senate committee and called for equal efforts to smoke out any management malpractice.

AFL-CIO President George Meany, re-elected to his second two-year term as head of the federation, summed up labor's position on union corruption in this way:

"The important thing . . . is that we have demonstrated that we are reluctant to throw people out of the house of labor; that we only do it when there is no other way, and that we do it in the full knowledge that it presents dangers to us, but with the complete conviction that in the long run labor will be better off for what we have done here this week."

Meany then told the federation it must stick to its purpose of securing for labor its "fair share" of the national wealth.

"We still think that organizing the unorganized is the first and fundamental purpose of the trade union movement, that it is a prerequisite to doing anything to improve their (workers') position," he declared.

The convention had earlier called for an intensified organizing campaign and fixed substantial wage increases, a shorter work week and improved fringe benefits as its 1958 collective bargaining demands.

Johnny Owen, 11 years old, heard his father, P. Cecil Owen, a director of the Chamber of Commerce board talking about the Christmas Home Decorating contest this year and the lack of interest. He was telling how concerned the Chamber was because of so few entries in the contest and the fear that if there was not more cooperation it might have to be called off.

Then Johnny did the thing that proves what kind of a citizen he is, even if he is only 11 years old. He hunted up the paper that carried the contest entry blanks on the front page, clipped the one for junior entries, filled it out and brought it in to his dad.

"Maybe this will help them to a little," said Johnny. "I don't know what I will have, but I'll have something."

Johnny's father, who believes in active participation in all civic projects where there is a need for him, smiled, took the entry blank and turned it over to the Chamber of Commerce. He is proud of Johnny, and so is the Chamber of Commerce because they see a mighty good future Chamber of Commerce member in the process of growing up.

Linda Jo Brauer Goes Into Coma After Early Yule

Little Linda Jo Brauer, five-years-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jewell Brauer, 1404 South Kentucky, is in a coma at the Bothwell Hospital, suffering a brain tumor. Linda Jo went into the coma Thursday evening and was immediately rushed to the hospital where her condition was reported as critical.

The child Friday was reported in a semi-coma but appeared to be a little better than when she entered the hospital.

It was last Saturday afternoon that Santa Claus, (Officer Charles Ellis) in company with Chief of Police Edgar Neighbors and officers Sgt. Charles Homan, and Jack Coutts, paid a visit to Linda Jo.

Santa Claus had heard her plight and gathered up some beautiful gifts and went to call on her. Her parents, two sisters and brothers already had a Christmas tree in readiness for the visit. Although shy during the visit, her later expressions and smiles warmed the hearts of her parents and relatives that she did have an early Christmas.

Since the news of Santa's visit and of her condition spread over the country, Christmas cards have been received by Linda Jo from nearly every state in the union, and today they number well over 100. The cards, according to her mother, have been averaging ten or 12 every day.

The child was taken ill a little more than a year ago, was operated upon last February at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., at which time the family was apprised of the child's critical condition.

But he said that on Nov. 28 or 29 he came to in New Orleans, 2,300 miles away, and discovered he was working on a construction job. He said he knew his name but has no idea how he got to New Orleans.

'World of Sound' Is Highlight Of Jaycees Meet

You could almost smell the smoke Thursday night when the sound of a passenger train pulling into a station filled the Pacific Room of the Pacific Cafe, thanks to stereophonic sound.

The demonstration by Harry Woodbury of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. comprised the program at the Sedalia Jaycees' meeting. The presentation, entitled "The World of Sound," centered about the giant technical steps forward in reproducing sound since Alexander Graham Bell invented the telephone. The characteristics of both high-fidelity and stereophonic sound were explained by Woodbury, and recorded examples were played.

The speaker was introduced by Norman Pitcairn, manager of the Sedalia office of Southwestern Bell.

Gene Knothe was elected first vice-president to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Ed Rogers, and Allen Hawkins was elected to take Knothe's place as a director.

President Don Richardson announced that the Christmas party and dance will be held on Dec. 27 at the Elks Club, and Bosses Night will be on Jan. 9. Speaker for that evening will be Tom Gorman of the Kansas City Athletics. On Jan. 23 will be the annual Distinguished Service Award banquet for the members and their wives.

Knothe, chairman of the Rural Santa Claus project, said that Santa and his Jaycee helpers will visit all the rural elementary schools of Pettis County next Thursday to distribute sacks of candy and fruit and to talk with the youngsters about their Christmas wishes. This is the fourth year this project has been conducted.

Mrs. Brando Denies Rumor of Separation

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The rumor mill is running full blast but Mrs. Marlon Brando denies that she and the actor have split.

"Absolutely untrue," she told a reporter who asked about published separation reports. "I don't know where the story came from."

Mrs. Brando, the former Anna Kashfi, added that "I'm just sitting home waiting to have my baby next July."

Brando wasn't available for comment but last week when asked about similar rift reports he said: "I won't say they're true and I won't say they're untrue. My private life is my own business and nobody else's."

Fire Destroys Gas Station At Warsaw Junction

The Ted & Merts tavern-filling station, Warsaw Junction, was completely destroyed by fire of undetermined origin at 4:30 a. m. Wednesday, Dec. 11.

Ted Selby, owner of the tavern and filling station, first noticed the fire when he was awakened by smoke which was causing him to cough in his sleep. The Selbys lived directly above the tavern. Both escaped unhurt.

Selby immediately called the Warsaw Volunteer Fire Department. Members of the department answered the call in their own automobiles since Warsaw's only fire truck is not allowed to leave the city. The crew, assisted by some Warsaw citizens, rushed to the site of the fire and set up operations to fight the blaze with buckets of water and soaked gunny sacks.

Fire in the tavern was completely out of control upon their arrival. Men were stationed on tops of the roofs of nearby cabins to prevent spreading of the blaze by flying sparks.

After two hours of fighting in 10 degree weather, the fire fighters were forced to give up on the buildings.

The blaze is believed to have started in the basement but direct cause is unknown. There was no estimate of damage.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Harry Gallon, whose memory blacked out for four months, came back to a tearfully joyous reunion with his wife, Betty, today.

"Oh honey!" he cried, as he sprinted across an airline office at the airport where Mrs. Gallon was waiting.

They kissed happily, while photographers' bulbs popped all over the place. Gallon's face and collar were smeared with lipstick. He didn't mind a bit.

Gallon, 31, San Francisco insurance man, flew here from New Orleans where bits of memory returned in the last two weeks. Mrs. Gallon flew down from San Francisco to await him.

Last Aug. 16 in San Francisco, Gallon went to keep an appointment with an insurance client, telling his wife to meet him later at the railroad station in San Mateo where they then lived. He disappeared.

Police found his wallet, briefcase and a bloodstained jacket and feared he had been robbed, kidnaped, perhaps murdered.

But he said that on Nov. 28 or 29 he came to in New Orleans, 2,300 miles away, and discovered he was working on a construction job. He said he knew his name but has no idea how he got to New Orleans.

Publishers Sue 'Star,' Ask $2,350,000

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Publishers of three small newspapers yesterday filed suits against the Kansas City Star for actual damages totaling $2,350,000 under the Sherman antitrust act.

Triple damages allowed by the law would make the total $7,050,000. In addition the plaintiffs ask $250,000 attorney fees.

Filed in U. S. District Court, the petitions alleged the Star forced advertisers to withhold advertising from the smaller publications.

The suits are based on the government's 1955 conviction of the Star on charges of monopolizing and trying to monopolize dissemination of news and advertising in the Kansas City area.

The plaintiffs and damages sought: Craig Siegfried, publisher of the Pictorial Shopper and Independence Daily News and operator of radio station KCMO, $1,000,000 actual, $3,000,000 triple damages.

Phillips M. Belveal and Lloyd Belveal, former publisher of the Industrial Press and North Kansas City News, $850,000 actual, $2,550,000 triple.

Lloyd Neff and William L. Neff, publishers of the Johnson County Herald, $500,000 actual, $1,500,000 triple.

Missile Work Inquiry Gets New Start

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Preparedness subcommittee today reopened an inquiry aimed at flattening major obstacles some of them feel have put the nation behind Russia in missile and satellite development.

Sen. Stennis (D-Miss.) said he believes the investigation will "point up the roadblocks" he said are slowing down missile production.

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.), another subcommittee member, said in a separate interview one of these obstacles is continued rivalry between the armed services. He said lags are compounded by lack of central direction.

"I am particularly anxious to find out the extent to which procurement of the many component parts is holding up developments and production," he said.

He said he agrees with Flanders that "we'll never get the program going full-blast until the President appoints a top man with overriding authority."

The subcommittee, headed by Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, was expected to look into the failure last Friday of this country's first attempt to launch an earth satellite.

It also was expected to ask Pentagon officials about a recent Air Force action establishing an office to deal with space research. The move may have stirred some Pentagon friction.

Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald Quarles told newsmen the Defense Department had asked the Air Force to "wait until we have the thing lined up." The department plans an over-all "advance research projects agency" with a single manager to coordinate such projects.

The subcommittee expects to go into Navy missile developments next week, including the Navy Vanguard project which failed in launching a test satellite last week at Cape Canaveral, Fla.

Eight Men Die In Plane Crash; One Escapes

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Eight men, including the wing commander, died in the spectacular crash of a giant B52 bomber just at sunset yesterday. The tail gunner miraculously escaped.

The plane, loaded with jet fuel for its eight engines, was struggling for altitude on takeoff. Then the nose seemed to go straight up, the bomber tipped over on its right wing and crashed to earth.

Exploding jet fuel sent up a column of smoke.

The Strategic Air Command has said that some of its heavy bombers carry nuclear weapons on training missions but that there is no chance they could explode in a crash. The Air Force declined to say if an atom bomb was aboard the B52.

Col. Clarence A. Neely, 42, Sioux City, Iowa, and Rockford, Ill., commander of the 92nd Bomb Wing at Spokane's Fairchild Air Force Base, was one of the victims.

The sole survivor, Sgt. Gene I. Graye, Augusta, Kan., said he didn't know how he escaped but was "lucky to be alive."

"I was scared as hell and I'm still a little shaky," he said in a hospital room interview. He was treated for minor cuts and bruises.

A member of the crash crew said the plane appeared to be making a routine takeoff.

"Then the nose seemed to go straight up and the plane tipped over on the right wing and came straight down," he said. "It blew up."

Gets Back Dog Tag After Thirteen Years

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (AP)—Thirteen years ago, Cleo M. (Ike) Orrison lost his dog tag while in the Army in New Guinea.

Yesterday he received the metal identification tag back—along with a letter from Robert A. Rolles, a draftsman in the Royal Dutch Navy.

Rolles wrote Orrison's sister Mrs. Lloyd Miller of Panhandle, Tex., whose name was on the dog tag as Orrison's next of kin.

He offered his condolence on Orrison's apparent death in the jungle and explained while clearing a site for erection of a new building he had found the tag.

Approves US Technical Aid Development

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. General Assembly's Economic Committee last night approved a U. S. plan for expanding U. N. technical assistance to lay the groundwork for economic growth of underdeveloped nations.

The committee voted 63-0 with eight abstentions for the 100-million-dollar plan after the United States proposed a broader proposal to create a "SUNFED" agency—the Special U. N. Fund for Economic developments. Various groups in the United States had assailed the SUNFED proposal.

Poorer nations have long urged creation of SUNFED to provide 150-250 million dollars a year for loans and grants for such nonpaying projects as roads and schools. The United States considered the idea unrealistic.

"The resources that countries are now prepared to make available would be totally inadequate to establish a fund of sufficient size to do the job intended for it," Rep. Walter J. Judd (R-Minn.), a member of this year's

U. S. delegation to the U. N. Assembly, told the committee. The United States proposed instead that 100 million dollars be spent annually to finance industrial and agricultural training institutes, surveys of resources and other special projects that would foster further economic development of recipient countries. Judd promised to urge the U. S. Congress to supply 40 million of the total. Other U. N. members would be asked to contribute the rest.

Place For Well-Given Gift

A well-given gift is not easy of selection as any Christmas shopper will admit who has scratched his head over the enigma of what to buy his family, relatives, friends or business associates—if the money goes that far.

Every year the circle of generosity is an expanding or contracting one governed by the erratic manifestations of domestic economics. In other words you should subscribe to the axiom of maintaining generosity within your means—if you haven't got excess dough then you spend on gifts only in proportion to the money you have.

The trouble is nobody does it that way. Hence vexatious debts are the climax of impetuous generosity. Even so, rank and file love it that way.

Then there are those more fortunate ones whose family circle is limited and who can afford to look about for those many worthy agencies which dispense charity or invite meaningful contributions taking the form of remembrances on behalf of others.

An increasing number of businessmen are establishing their own Christmas tradition by making a contribution to their hospital in the name of their customers to whom they ordinarily send gifts.

Bothwell Memorial Hospital has been receptive to these contributions in the past; there have been a few but not enough. Despite the fact that our hospital will acquire a new addition and undergo considerable remodeling of the old structure in 1958 the facilities are only basic and there will always be a need for specific and improved equipment or furniture as time goes on.

In this manner contributors may have a part in providing gifts that will benefit many persons for many years. Business concerns or individuals may establish modest gift programs which are as welcome as large endowments. They may specify the manner in which the contribution is to be used or leave it to the discretion of the hospital.

So if the Christmas gift problem is perplexing, then Bothwell Memorial Hospital provides one of the solutions to the type of giving which expresses the true spirit of Christmas.

Pertinent to generosity in good season is an interpretation succinctly expressed in the first paragraph of the will of Nathan Straus, American merchant, who died in 1931:

"I have always been deeply impressed by an old Jewish proverb which says, 'What you give for the cause of Charity in health is gold; what you give in sickness is silver; what you give after death is lead!'"

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Censor to Check Senate Missile Probe

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Senators probing our "smugglers in Sputniks" may not know it, but a secret censor has been appointed in the Pentagon to review, and if necessary suppress, information to be sent to the missile investigating committee. He is Robert Dechert, counsel for the Defense Department, whose job it is to see that the senators get no information too embarrassing to the administration.

Despite this, the senators have laid hands on one dynamite-laden document, labeled RM-1760, dated June 21, 1956, which as far back as a year and a half ago gave grim warning of Russia's missile might.

The secret report was based on Soviet technical journals which have proved amazingly frank—when the administration could spare the money to translate them.

Quoting these technical journals, the secret RM-1760 report revealed 18 months ago that Russia was combining military missiles into one powerful "launch vehicle" capable of hurling a one-ton satellite aloft. Later, it developed that the Russian satellite weighed only half a ton, which was about 1,000 pounds heavier than our "kaputnik."

350,000,000 HP

The secret report also revealed that Russia was building a mammoth moon rocket to be powered by 20 rocket motors.

Despite this, the Eisenhower administration flatly ignored the warning, secretly slashed research funds and even slowed down our missile production schedule. The budget-first boys, led by Asst. President Sherman Adams and then Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey, persuaded like it was more important to give the voters a tax cut.

They slapped a ceiling on defense spending that almost threw the missile program into a tailspin. Not until the Soviet Sputniks awakened the public to what the administration knew 18 months before were the research cutbacks restored and the missile program speeded up.

Here's what RM-1760, a technical intelligence report prepared for the Air Force by the Rand Corporation, revealed two summers ago:

1. That Russia had already started construction of a moon rocket about 200 feet long and 40 feet in diameter. It would be driven to the moon by 20 rocket motors, capable of generating 350,000,000 horsepower. At take-off, 75 per cent of its gross weight would be fuel.

2. That the Soviets were building a four-stage satellite launcher which could catapult a one-ton payload into an orbit 125 to 1,000 miles above the earth. Significantly, this was described as a "product of the T-3 (intercontinental ballistic missile) program."

3. That the Russians were completing a 160-foot ICBM, weighing 250 tons, with a range of 5,000 miles. This is the terrible T-3 whose first stages, the report said, are T-1 and T-2 intermediate missiles.

4. That Russia "started production" in 1956 of the T-2, an 85-ton ballistic missile with an 1,800-mile range. Its lox-kerosene motor produced 245,000 pounds thrust, almost twice what our best engine can do now.

5. That the Russians were also producing the T-4, a "supersonic glide missile," which could sail 1,000 miles on thin wings.

Space-Ship Men

6. That they were developing a manned rocket bomber able to soar over 100 miles into space for distances up to 10,000 miles. Already flight-tested, this is the nearest man has come to building a manned space ship.

7. That 18 months ago the Soviets had already produced a rocket fuel that could get 40 per cent more thrust out of an engine without increasing its size or weight.

8. That they were producing at least two manned rocket planes, the YAK-21 and LA-17, comparable to our X-1 and X-2 experimental planes.

9. That Russia already had manned rocket interceptors, capable of shooting down jet bombers, stationed around her arms centers.

10. That the Soviet arsenal is bristling with lesser rockets and missiles, including several that can be launched from submarines under water for distances up to 750 miles.

The shocking RM-1760 report dismissed the suggestion that Russia was relying on imported German scientists and stolen secrets for her rocket development.

"Quick to realize the enormous military potential of the rocket," the report declares, "the Soviet government organized a government-sponsored rocket research program in 1934, eight years before similar systematic Army-sponsored research began in the United States."

What the senators would like to know is why RM-1760 went unheeded and why the truth about Soviet missile power has been withheld from the public.

Note: Central Intelligence Chief Allen Dulles warned senators behind closed doors that Russia is ahead of us in every military field except atomic submarines. He claimed the Soviets are a "couple of years" ahead in satellites and intercontinental missiles. Asked why his warnings weren't heeded, Dulles replied with a shrug that it wasn't his responsibility.

Guest Editorial

COLUMBIA MISSOURIAN: Old Story To Columbia. The fact that Columbia is an up-to-date and progressive city is often taken for granted as some citizens stress what we don't have. So, a Sunday newswriter surprised many local residents, because it reminded them of an advantage we have long had.

The story told how the dial telephone system went into effect in Sedalia, seat of the Missouri State Fair, at 1:01 a.m. Sunday morning. As the dial system was instituted, so was the national toll dialing whereby long distance calls need not go through a long distance operator.

Having dial telephones is an old story here in Columbia. The Columbia Telephone Company, now the General Telephone Company, installed dial telephones way back in 1929. This was long in advance of many other Missouri cities, and some 38 years earlier than our neighboring city of Sedalia.

The Columbia exchange went to operator toll dialing last May, which has been a distinct advantage to Columbians wishing to telephone to distant cities.

If we will look around we can find a number of other advantages and services, which, like dial telephones, are taken for granted until we hear that other places don't have them.

The World's Getting Smaller Every Day---and Heavier

The World Today

Johnson Will Be Specific the Next Time

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The next time Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas talks of scrapping the 40-hour work week he'll probably be specific.

He talked of it this week and got a lot of attention but only because it wasn't clear he had been repeating what someone else said. Then he had to make it clear.

Johnson, besides being the Democrats' Senate leader, is chairman of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee investigating the missile and satellite programs.

In talks in Texas about the need for speed to catch up with the Russians, Johnson said the 40-hour week will not produce the intercontinental ballistic missile.

And he said further: "We are justified in calling for an end to the 40-hour week, but not as a means of increasing profits for business."

This raised immediate questions: Was he talking of a 48-hour week without overtime pay? Was he talking of a 48-hour week for the whole country? Was there a need for a 48-hour week?

Johnson got a quick and unfavorable reaction from AFL-CIO leaders at their convention in Atlantic City.

They opposed the idea of a longer work week and pointed to spreading unemployment and layoffs in the aircraft and missile fields because of economy cuts by the Defense Department.

Their statements about unemployment were confirmed later by the Labor and Commerce departments, which said the volume of unemployment in this country last month was the largest for any November in the past eight years.)

Johnson did his talking Tuesday. On Wednesday he explained what he had had in mind about the 40-hour week.

He said he didn't mean it to apply to industry as a whole but only to missiles. And an aide later said Johnson wasn't talking for or against overtime pay.

Johnson said: "What I have done is repeat testimony before the Senate Preparedness subcommittee."

He quoted Secretary of Defense McElroy—who took over his Pentagon job Oct. 9 from former Secretary Wilson—as replying to a committee question about the missile program to this effect:

McElroy found, when he took office, there had been a government ban on overtime pay for making missiles. McElroy quickly lifted the ban and authorized overtime.

But is there a shortage of workers for the missile program? Apparently Johnson doesn't know whether there is.

A call to his subcommittee, still working on its investigation of the missile program, brought this answer: "We don't know whether there is a shortage of workers or not. That's something we hope to find out about as we go along."

Dr. Jordan Says

Fear Becomes Phobia Only If Real Danger Is Absent

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

The always interesting subject of phobias or obsessions is introduced by a letter from V., who says: "I have a fear when traveling in trains that dirt and contact with soiled tissues and discarded chewing gum can cause infection and disease. Is there any truth to this?"

It is true, I suppose, that there is a slight risk from germs under such circumstances as those mentioned, but it sounds as though V. is fearful to an abnormal degree. This then would be the obsession which goes under the name of mysophobia, defined as abnormal fear of dirt, germs or contamination.

Apparently there are many people who are abnormally afraid of one thing and another. Sometimes this is so severe as to be extremely distressing, both to the victim and to family and associates. It should, however, be distinguished from the kind of fear which all of us have in the face of a real risk.

A phobia is an excessive fear of something which is either imaginary or which a normal person will shrug off with little worry. It is a symptom of real mental disease and under such circumstances, of course, a psychiatrist should be consulted.

There are many kinds of fears but I shall mention only a few of them.

One fear is called acrophobia, which is fear of great heights. This seems to be quite common, probably so much so that it is almost "normal."

There is another fear called bathophobia, which means fear of great depths. If it really meant the way it sounded it would be childhood's most common problem!

There are other phobias with long and tongue-twisting names and strange meanings.

Here are a few: apiphobia—fear of bees; aquaphobia—fear of water; claustrophobia—fear of closed spaces; ceratophobia—fear of thunder; bibliophobia—dislike of books; chrophobia—fear of gaiety; and necrophobia—fear of death.

Several of these are fears which nearly everyone has to some degree. But true phobias make the victims miserable and can completely dominate their lives and point of view. Even when the nature of the fear seems amusing to someone else it is a constant source of annoyance to the person involved and causes a lot of mental distress.

What can be done for such obsessions? Not a great deal, I believe. However, one should remember that fear is abnormal only when it is excessive and a real reason for that fear is lacking.

A Bit of Shade for Nixon

Ike Takes Spotlight Now; Veep May Not Be 'His Boy'

By JOSEPH A. DEAR

Of Our Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — Ike's gone to the Paris NATO conference. And that's a big break for Nixon.

It will turn the spotlight from the Vice President during a difficult period that is fraught with political danger. For the publicity Nixon received after Ike's mild stroke was anything but a blessing, contrary to the prevailing assumption.

It could have, and may have, soured Ike. Look at the developments from the President's viewpoint: He's decommitted by that stroke. His subordinates wash him out of the NATO conference without consultation. Nixon meets the press five times in one day at the White House. A surprisingly substantial body of opinion holds the President should resign in Nixon's favor. But he feels up to the job.

The impact of those developments could shake anyone. It would take a big man to reject the implication that forces were conspiring to oust him from office. No doubt Ike is a big man. No doubt he did reject the implication. Subconsciously, though, the sequence of events must have made an impression.

And that could be very important. There are some indications that Nixon is not Ike's favorite for the presidential mantle. Since the 1952 campaign, when Ike boarded Nixon's plane after the slush fund furor and said "You're my boy," the Vice President has enjoyed the reputation of favorite.

But many insiders say Ike would give the nod to General Alfred Gruenther if he could. Gruenther, who was Ike's alter ego at NATO and top man after he left, now is President of the American Red Cross. Gruenther has never gone out of his way to discourage speculation about his availability for the 1960 GOP presidential nomination. Coldly speaking, Gruenther's chances are slim. Nixon is front runner. But if Ike's faith in Nixon were shaken sufficiently, the President might throw his support to Gruenther. And that would change the picture.

That's not the only danger. So long as the President is ailing, the government limps along. These days a limping government is almost certain to produce a sorry record.

Nixon cannot divorce himself from the record of the Administration. No more than Adlai Stevenson could divorce himself from the record of the Truman Administration in 1952. The record this Administration makes will be the record on which Nixon must stand.

Miscellaneous political notes: George Bloom, Republican state chairman in Pennsylvania, may run for the Senate next year. Senator Ed Martin, the GOP incumbent, is expected to bow out. . . . George Leader, Democrat, the present Governor, would be Bloom's probable opponent. Mayor Richardson Dilworth of Philadelphia would be the Democratic gubernatorial candidate. . . .

Look for the Democrats to pick up a Senate seat in New Jersey next year. Senator H. Alexander Smith, the aging incumbent, bowed out. He is a three time winner and probably the strongest Republican on the horizon. According to insiders, he threw in the sponge because the Democratic tide looked too strong. . . .

Connecticut is another state where the Republicans may be in for trouble. An indicator is the resignation of the two top men of the Associated Press' Hartford Bureau. Both went with Governor Abraham Ribicoff, (D), who is up next year. One of the APers is a 27 year veteran. . . .

The Mature Parent

Told He Can 'Do Anything,' Winds Up Doing Nothing

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence

That day Paul G. returned from school deeply depressed by his introduction to fractions. He could not understand them.

As he finally tackled his homework, his mother noted his dispirited state and said soothingly, "Don't worry, dear. You'll find the right answers. I know my boy. There's nothing he can't do if he wants to."

This declaration of unlimited power was her formula for comfort throughout Paul's childhood. She repeated it when he entered new schools, faced exams, looked for summer jobs.

The lying, fond, poisonous incantation against failure made its inevitable groove in Paul's consciousness. He soon learned to deal with his actual experience of failure the only way he could: he pretended it hadn't happened.

When he flunked out of college, it was because a certain teacher had it in for him. When his employers fired him, it was because they were jealous of his superior salesmanship. When his wife left him, it was because his mother-in-law wouldn't mind her own business.

To these increasing experiences in limited power, his mother would say soothingly, "I know my boy. There's nothing he can't do."

But the formula was beginning to sound a little querulous and impatient.

So Paul began to seek the old soothing illusion of unlimited power in alcohol. Drunk, he could stop worrying and again believe himself capable of anything.

I have known many parents who used Mrs. G.'s comfort formula.

If we've been fed on it, we should take a long look at them instead of staring so blankly into the highball we're about to drink. They themselves are people who can accept no limitations. Their financial affairs are in chaos because bank balances put restrictions on their spending. They break promises because promises put controls on their actions.

They complain endlessly about aches and pains because the encroachment of age on their physical powers is an outrage. They live in terror of dying because dying is the end of power.

To turn finally from that highball, we must first turn finally from trust of these babies as reliable teachers of truth.

They have remained babies because they never stopped trusting the people who said, "Don't worry, dear. There's nothing you can't do if you want to."

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D. D.

Anticipation fills the minds of everyone for several weeks before Christmas. Some few look forward to an experience of the rebirth of love. Others look forward to the dramatic events of participation in gaiety. Still more enjoy the uplift of sharing and giving to others.

Even the hard-headed materialist finds satisfaction in the spirit of unselfishness which pervades the season. The tragic "let down" which sometimes comes on Dec. 26 makes one question the value of the anticipation. This discouragement need not occur if we base our preparation on the foundation of God's eternal love.

We must continue to sing "Silent Night" along with "Faith of Our Fathers" after Christmas. We must thrill with Christ's love after the manger scene has been replaced by a picture of Gethsemane and the walk of the disciples with the resurrected Christ.

Sunday School Lesson Notes:

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

If there is one word that would apply to our world and time, it is "joylessness."

Against the basic background of two world wars in half the century, with a semi-world war in Korea, plus other conflicts, it is no wonder that we are living in a world that is upset and full of anxiety.

Science, moreover, which actually has done so much to promote health, relieve suffering, and save life, and which has given us so many gadgets for kindlier living, has now come up with forces and weapons that threaten the entire human race.

This is the major joylessness, but there is a minor joylessness that widely affects the homes and masses. It is typified in the movies and television.

Those who control these immense instruments seem to figure, rightly or wrongly, that the prior concern of a great majority of people is to be amused or entertained.

The form of entertainment they offer is largely in the nature of thrills and excitement, on screen, in theater and home; endless visions of guns, violence, and murder, with occasional morbid and psychopathic features thrown in.

It is all a part of the tenseness and joylessness of so much modern life.

There is, of course, another side to the picture. There are always the seven thousand, and many more, who have not bowed the knee to Baal. But religion itself, which ought to be the great resource and redeeming factor, is too often somber and lacking in joy.

It is to the credit of great evangelists, like Billy Graham, that they are facing up to the evil in the world, and are offering to all the way of salvation.

But I wonder whether I am not right in sensing a certain tenseness in much of our earnest religious effort; a lack of joy, a lack of what Jesus Himself so strongly emphasized in the Gospel: "Come unto Me all ye that labor and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest" (Matthew 11:28)?

Psalm and rejoicing were typical of much of Old Testament religion, even in times of peril and danger. The writer of the 46th Psalm, in a little land beset with enemies, in the midst of surrounding warring empires, could none the less write: "God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble. Therefore will not we fear though the earth be removed." It was a sort of ancient atomic age, in the sense of threatening existence itself, but the Psalmist was undaunted.

If that Old Testament saint could find joy in his faith and strength, how much more should we find joy with the presence of Christ as Savior and guide.

We shall shortly be singing, "Joy to the world, the Lord is come." There won't be much joy to a world that so largely ignores and rejects the coming of the Lord. But we can find joy in our own souls.

If the world could really find rest, it might find strength and vision to solve some of its problems.

Belgian Pair Upsets US Tennis Team

BRISBANE, Australia (AP)—Belgium's Jackie Brichant and Philippe Washer staggered America's booming Davis Cup hopes with a fighting doubles exhibition today which upset Uncle Sam's prize team of Vic Seixas and Gardner Mulloy.

Their backs to the wall after the U.S. open singles triumph yesterday, the veteran tandem from Brussels won 7-5, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3 to keep alive the Interzone Final, which now will be decided by tomorrow's two final singles.

The United States leads 2-1. Herbie Flam, comeback winner over Brichant, will face Washer and Seixas will meet his old nemesis Brichant, who licked him in a tremendous surprise here in the 1953 Interzone Final.

On the basis of today's play there was no definite assurance America will go into the Challenge Round against Australia at Melbourne Dec. 26-28.

Brichant and Washer, nervous and unsure of themselves in the opening singles, seemed to snap back into top form.

If the United States win through to the Challenge Round—and they should—Captain Bill Talbert may have to experiment with a new doubles combination.

Mulloy, a 44-year-old veteran from Miami, Fla., failed to show the speed and reflexes needed in big-time tennis, although he probably is suffering a temporary slump.

His volley errors and service failures were largely responsible for the U.S. defeat.

Brichant, the scrappy 27-year-old Belgian, was easily the star of the day's show. He lost only one service and played dynamic tennis from start to finish. He troubled Mulloy and Seixas with his lopping forehand and backhand drives and whenever the Belgians needed a point it seemed Brichant always was there to hit a killing overhead or put away a sharp volley.

Seixas played well but he lost his service twice at critical stages and over-all he was not up to the standard of the court-covering, slashing Brichant.

Mulloy lost his service four times, three times in a row in the first and second sets and it was the loss of his delivery which cost the Americans the fourth and last set.

Tiger Victory Will Even Score In Tourney Play

The Smith-Cotton Tigers will attempt to even their record at 2-2 at 8 o'clock tonight in the semi-finals of the Richmond Invitational Basketball Tournament when they clash with Liberty. In the other semi-final contest, the highly rated Marshall Owls take on the high scoring Chillicothe quintet.

In last night's games, Liberty ripped Excelsior Springs, 60-42, in the quarterfinals and in consolation games Park Hill topped Kearney, 62-49, and Wentworth, a first round victim of Smith-Cotton, edged Higginsville, 41-39.

In the first game tonight, Slater battles Kearney in the semi-finals of the consolation flight, with the winner meeting Wentworth for the consolation on Saturday night.

Regardless of the outcome in tonight's game, Smith-Cotton will return to Richmond for more activity on Saturday night. If they get by Liberty, the Bengals will meet the winner of the Chillicothe-Marshall game and if they lose they will face the loser of the same game. In the opening game of the season, Marshall measured the Tigers on the S-C hardwoods, but not until the Tigers had come from 18 points back in the fourth period to narrow the gap to 66-62.

BRYAN SCORES FOR S-C — Marshall Bryan, Smith-Cotton's all-around athlete, fires a scoring shot for the Smith-Cotton basketball team in the Richmond tournament against Wentworth. The Tigers downed the Cadets 45-21 and moved into the semi-finals tonight against Liberty.

Frank Broyles has departed; many fans are bemoaning the loss and some are even making sly remarks regarding his rather sudden decision; but the University is still in Columbia and Mizou's search party is hunting for a replacement. It's evident that top coaching ability is available, and it's a good bet that a known coach will be hired.

Missouri's talent for the 1958 season is promising and the addition of an excellent freshman crop adds attractiveness to the position. The entire athletic setup at the university is not as dim as depicted, as some might conclude after reading press releases regarding the departure of Broyles and Jerry Claiborne, an assistant coach. All things considered, it's not unlikely that the Tigers' coaching problem will exist for another week. And, it's sane to predict that the man selected to lead Ol' Mizou will adequately fill the shoes emptied by Broyles—an excellent coach in his own right. Let's let Frank leave in peace—with our best wishes and blessings. He provided an interesting season at Columbia and fielded a fairly good team, but believes he'll fare better with Arkansas—a member of the football frantic Southwest Conference.

Irish Eleven Great, Says Father Joyce At Annual Banquet

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—A Notre Dame football team that possibly could be ranked as a great one in 1958 is foreseen by the Rev. Edmund P. Joyce, executive vice president of the university.

Father Joyce shed optimism on the 38th annual civic testimonial banquet for the Irish squad last night attended by about 1,000 well wishers.

"Of course," said Father Joyce, "we would not be so rash as to classify the 1957 squad as great. But what we must remember is that we have not seen the last of this team. The vast nucleus of the squad—sophomores last year, juniors this year—will be back again next fall to play their final season as a unit.

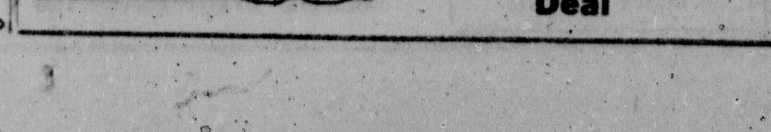

"If the improvement from 1956 to 1957 continues apace, this team will have a chance to carve a niche for itself among the great teams of Notre Dame history."

Coach Terry Brennan's 1956 team had a 2-8 record, worst in Notre Dame history. This year the Irish had 7-3.

Tournaments Starts, But No Other Change

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
The first of the holiday tournaments begin to roll tonight, but otherwise there's no change in college basketball. North Carolina still is unbeaten.

There was one upset, of sorts, last night as Oregon State rapped Seattle 63-55, but the national champion Tar Heels rolled their 35th consecutive success with a 91-74 job on winless Furman.

Some less pretentious winning strings are on the line tonight. Five unbeaten clubs are among the 12 teams in the Birmingham Classic, the Steel Bowl and the University of Cincinnati tournaments.

The top game, tourneywise, pairs Texas Christian (3-0) and Auburn (2-0) at Birmingham after Mississippi State (4-0) plays Miami of Florida (3-1).

At Cincinnati, the host Bearcats (2-0) play St. Bonaventure (3-0) and Xavier of Ohio (3-0) meets Marshall (1-1).

It's Pitt (2-0) vs. George Washington (0-3), and Duquesne (1-1) vs. Miami of Ohio (2-1) at Pittsburgh.

The top-ranked Tar Heels went to work early, leading 19-8 after four minutes, but had to dissolve a Furman zone defense before winning their third of the season. The champs got 31 points from senior Pete Brennan and 28 from soph Lee Shaffer.

Oregon State (3-0) stuck 6-9 Wayne Moss and 6-8 Gary Goble on 6-6 Elgin Baylor under the basket and shut off the Seattle star with 17 points. Dave Gambee, who shadowed Baylor outside, was high scorer with 18.

Louisville had it easy in an 89-65 decision over previously unbeaten Iowa with Roger Tieman scoring 22 points. St. John's of Brooklyn (4-0) had a tussle, but defeated Washington Lee 85-73 in the other half of the Madison Square Garden twin bill. Dom Flora was the whole show for the Generals with 27 points.

A zone defense again gave Texas A&M trouble while Richmond got points from all but one of its 12 men in a 70-50 victory. Oklahoma defeated Southern Methodist 66-58 with Joe King scoring 23. Both clubs hit less than a third on their shots as Iowa State defeated Brigham Young 54-45 on the 20-point work of John Crawford and a 63-47 edge in rebounds.

Soviets Live Up To IGY Promise, Scientist Says

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (U)—One of the scientists directing the American satellite tracking program says the Soviets are living up to all their promises for the International Geophysical Year.

Dr. J. Allen Hynek, assistant director of the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory, told a newsman last night: "As far as I am concerned, the Russians have met all the IGY agreements so far."

Hynek was commenting on a Russian proposal that a code be developed for rapid exchange of satellite tracking information.

Dr. Fred L. Whipple, Smithsonian director, said an unidentified Soviet scientist made the proposal in a letter to him about six weeks ago. He said scientists are working on the idea.

WASHINGTON (U)—The Census Bureau won't ask for your religious affiliation in the 1960 census.

A bureau spokesman said considerable pressure has come from individuals and groups with various arguments for dropping the controversial question. Some saw it as a threat to freedom of religion, the spokesman said.

Census law requires that all questions asked by a census taker be answered. Legal action can be taken in cases of refusal to answer.

NEW YORK (U)—Police report that 153 automobiles were stolen in the city from the time the subway strike started to 1:30 p.m. yesterday.

In the same period last week the thefts totaled 93 cars.

A police official suggested that the sharp rise in auto thefts stemmed from the criminal element "finding it a hardship" to ride in crowded trains and buses.

Wants to Go Home, Says Vexed Gunman

NEW YORK (AP)—A well-dressed gunman who boarded a bus last night in Queens, flashed a pistol and growled at the driver:

"Don't give me no lip. Just drive me where I say. I want to go home."

He was the only passenger aboard the bus. Its driver, James Pardoles Jr., 23, offered him $5, but the gunman snarled: "I don't want no money. I just want to go home."

He forced Pardoles to turn out the lights and drive nine miles in a maze of streets.

Pardoles told police the man became frightened when a patrol car noticed the bus lights blinking on and off and jumped out.

Weatherman Sees Prospect Of Warm-up

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Icy temperatures stung citrus groves and vegetable crops in the normally mild South again today, but there was a prospect of relief from the record-breaking freeze.

Some light snow spread eastward from Minnesota across parts of the Great Lakes region during the night, and snow flurries persisted in some sections of the north Atlantic states southward into Pennsylvania.

Elsewhere in the country, dry weather was the rule.

For the second straight night unseasonably low temperatures prevailed along the Atlantic Coast and readings in the teens reached through most of South Carolina and eastern Georgia.

In Florida, where the freeze was termed one of the worst of the century, the mercury settled into the 20s in northern sections and the 30s in the south.

The cold wave, which rolled out of the northern plains early in the week and across the Midwest bringing snows before hitting the South and East, had claimed at least 34 lives in one way or another.

Damage from the Florida freeze was expected to soar into the millions. Temperatures ranged down to 18 degrees at Crestview, and ice was a common sight in central and northern sections of the citrus belt.

The U. S. Weather Bureau forecast considerable warming today for the Mississippi Valley eastward through the Great Lakes and Ohio Valley as well as in the Southeast. However, the cold weather was expected to continue in the Northeast.

The snow area generally received light amounts, but Syracuse, N. Y., accumulated 4 inches early today, and up to 2 inches fell in parts of northern Wisconsin.

Shell, Fire Don't Mix

DALLAS (AP)—Mrs. Rose Parker, 38, tossed some unwanted objects in a wood-burning stove while preparing to move. A few minutes later there was a loud bang and a bullet whizzed across the kitchen. Mrs. Parker crumpled to the floor with a wound near her left shoulder.

Unknowingly, she had dumped a couple of live pistol shells in the hot fire. She was reported in satisfactory condition.
